David di Fiore, originally from Seattle, is professor of organ, improvisation, and choral conducting at the Catholic University in Ruzomberok, Slovak Republic. He has recorded and performed at major cathedrals and concert festivals throughout Europe, North America, and Latin America, and is famous for his colorful, dazzling and innovative musical performances.

Featuring a menu of J. S. Bach, Cesár Franck and others, with Noel Rawsthorne’s Hornpipe Humoresque for “dessert,” this uplifting program will showcase our 3 manual Balcom and Vaughan/Bosman organ, the 2nd largest in Everett. There will be a video screen in the front of the nave so all may watch the performance close up.
